Hi Emma,

The policy is going to our board for approval tonight and will be ready tomorrow. I wanted to have board approval before submitting to you. So that you know, our draft policy is the same as the KSBA policy you sent me from another district as a sample last Thursday. I will send the policy once the board approves it tonight. I hope this update helps!

Thanks,

Stephanie

Superintendent Wade,

The Dual Credit Office at BCTC is requesting notification of your district's SB 150 policy in regard to dual credit courses. As SB 150 sets parameters on courses taken by public high school students, there is a direct impact on dual credit course offerings for current and future dual credit students in your district.

Please, see the attached letter from the dual credit office for further clarification of our request. We will need notification of your district's SB 150 policy as soon as possible. The sooner we receive your district's SB 150 policy, the sooner we can prepare for the fall enrollment of dual credit students in your district.

Please, reach out by email or phone (859-246-6912) with any questions or concerns.

The ultimate overall question is: Can library media programs make available for check-out books that pertain to topics listed in SB 150? If so, can they be part of displays or promotions in the library?

Here is the exact wording from SB 150: A policy to respect parental rights by ensuring that: 1. Children in grade five (5) and below do not receive any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases; 2. Any child, regardless of grade level, enrolled in the district does not receive any instruction or presentation that has a goal or purpose of students studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation; and A policy to notify a parent in advance and obtain the parent's written consent before the parent's child in grade six (6) or above receives any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases authorized in this section. Any course, curriculum, or program offered by a public school on the subject of human sexuality provided by school personnel or by third parties authorized by the school shall: (a) Provide an alternative course, curriculum, or program without any penalty to the student's grade or standing for students whose parents have not provided written consent as required in subsection (1)(e) of this section; (b) Be subject to an inspection by parents of participating students that allows parents to review the following materials: 1. Curriculum; 2. Instructional materials; 3. Lesson plans; 4. Assessments or tests; 5. Surveys or questionnaires; 6. Assignments; and 7. Instructional activities; (c) Be developmentally appropriate; and (d) Be limited to a curriculum that has been subject to the reasonable review and response by stakeholders in conformity with this subsection and KRS 9 160.345(2).

"A public school offering any course, curriculum, or program on human sexuality shall provide written notification to the parents of a student at least two (2) weeks prior to the student's planned participation in the course, curriculum or program." - This is from KDE guidance

So, with all of the above information:

Is the library collection considered a "program"?

Is the scholastic book fair considered a "program"?

I'm sorry to pose these questions, but they've been posed to me, and I wanted to get the KDE Library leads guidance. I don't want to put our Library Media Specialists and their programs in a position to be breaking laws. Still, I want them to be able to make available reading materials that are age-appropriate on all topics if the law permits. The library collection is not a curriculum or a presented program, in my opinion. It is based on a choice for check-out. The library instruction they provide within the library lesson would be considered a curriculum or presented program, but the collection itself, I would think, is not. I don't want to be the "say so" on this, though, because I would never want to put our libraries or district in a position of law-breaking or litigation. I've included our Chief Academic Officer, as he will be working through this with me for libraries, instructional resources, and our curriculum.

Thanks for any insight you can give us!

Hey James,

If you don't have any library-specific guidance from KDE, we will take it to our board attorney for counsel. I want to have some clear guidance so our library media specialists and library programs know the law as it pertains to the library.

Thanks for your help!

Best,
Stephanie

Subject: Re: SB 150 Library Guidance

The ultimate overall question is: Can library media programs make available for check-out books that pertain to topics listed in SB 150? If so, can they be part of displays or promotions in the library?

Here is the exact wording from SB 150: A policy to respect parental rights by ensuring that: 1. Children in grade five (5) and below do not receive any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases; 2. Any child, regardless of grade level, enrolled in the district does not receive any instruction or presentation that has a goal or purpose of students studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation; and A policy to notify a parent in advance and obtain the parent's written consent before the parent's child in grade six (6) or above receives any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases authorized in this section. Any course, curriculum, or program offered by a public school on the subject of human sexuality provided by school personnel or by third parties authorized by the school shall: (a) Provide an alternative course, curriculum, or program without any penalty to the student's grade or standing for students whose parents have not provided written consent as required in subsection (1)(e) of this section;(b) Be subject to an inspection by parents of participating students that allows parents to review the following materials: 1. Curriculum; 2. Instructional materials; 3. Lesson plans; 4. Assessments or tests; 5. Surveys or questionnaires; 6. Assignments; and 7. Instructional activities; (c) Be developmentally appropriate; and (d) Be limited to a curriculum that has been subject to the reasonable review and response by stakeholders in conformity with this subsection and KRS 9 160.345(2).

"A public school offering any course, curriculum, or program on human sexuality shall provide written notification to the parents of a student at least two (2) weeks prior to the student's planned participation in the course, curriculum or program." - This is from KDE guidance

So, with all of the above information:

Is the library collection considered a "program"?

Is the scholastic book fair considered a "program"?

I'm sorry to pose these questions, but they've been posed to me, and I wanted to get the KDE Library leads guidance. I don't want to put our Library Media Specialists and their programs in a position to be breaking laws. Still, I want them to be able to make available reading materials that are age-appropriate on all topics if the law permits. The library collection is not a curriculum or a presented program, in my opinion. It is based on a choice for check-out. The library instruction they provide within the library lesson would be considered a curriculum or presented program, but the collection itself, I would think, is not. I don't want to be the "say so" on this, though, because I would never want to put our libraries or district in a position of law-breaking or litigation. I've included our Chief Academic Officer, as he will be working through this with me for libraries, instructional resources, and our curriculum.

Thanks for any insight you can give us!

Do you have any school library guidance for SB150? Specifically on collection development, book fairs, access to materials, etc.

My superintendent and district office have had questions from staff, and 2 parents have asked how that works...

Thanks so much for any insight!

If I'm reading the documents correctly, this guidance places much less emphasis on obtaining consent from parents for mental health and health services and focuses more on notifying parents and creating the mechanism for them to opt out if they so choose. In my brain (which is a wild place, so I could be totally wrong), this works much like the parents' right to request that we withhold student directory information. Our current practice with that is to notify parents of their rights under FERPA through the OLR, and they have to contact us to complete the written request for us to withhold that information.

I'm interested to hear Mr. Dexter's opinion!

Hey Mike,

Can we get added to Dexter for guidance on SB 150 and its implications on library media programs? I reached out to the KDE library lead, and he has no guidance to give. Here are the questions I posed to him and I'd like Stephen to look at:

The ultimate overall question is: Can library media programs make available for check-out books that pertain to topics listed in SB 150? If so, can they be part of displays or promotions in the library?

Any course, curriculum, or program offered by a public school on the subject of human sexuality provided by school personnel or by third parties authorized by the school shall: (a) Provide an alternative course, curriculum, or program without any penalty to the student's grade or standing for students whose parents have not provided written consent as required in subsection (1)(e) of this section; (b) Be subject to an inspection by parents of participating students that allows parents to review the following materials: 1. Instructional activities; (c) Be developmentally appropriate; and (d) Be limited to a curriculum that has been subject to the reasonable review and response by stakeholders in conformity with this subsection and KRS 9 160.345(2).

"A public school offering any course, curriculum, or program on human sexuality shall provide written notification to the parents of a student at least two (2) weeks prior to the student's planned participation in the course, curriculum or program." - This is from KDE guidance

Here is the Library specific PD schedule for next school year. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Library PD Plan- 2023

Also, SB 150 has some implications for library media programs. We met with Stephen Dexter regarding the law and its impact on curriculum and programs, specifically the library media programs. We will all meet on Wednesday, May 24th, at 8:30 to review the law and his guidance. I will send a calendar invite.

Have a great LAST week of school!

Hi all,

As I have been going through books, I have a lot of questions that I feel like need clarification in order for me to properly pull what is needed for SB 150 and SB 5. I have attached a google doc where I am adding my questions w/ example books. I don't want to pull what is unnecessary, but also don't want to not follow the guidance.

I am not sure who would have the answers to these questions. Maybe Stephanie, you can clarify? Or perhaps we need to run them through Mr. Dexter?

I am including everyone on this email who was in our meeting Wednesday. Fellow librarians - feel free to add questions to this doc if you need.

Thanks,

Hey Danielle and All,

Steve Karsner and Mark will be meeting with Dexter and will take this document with questions. I will also include some books that others have asked about. I like your idea of weeding only what is necessary! We will give you an update on Wednesday afternoon.

For elementary, here are the two parts that would apply:

1. Children in grade five (5) and below do not receive any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases; (No books or materials) We will clarify with Stephen whether this applies to menstruation...Here is the KDE summary information that includes the health standard that was struck out due to the bill that might help clarify some, and it includes "puberty".

NOTE: The following grade 5 health standard no longer aligns with KRS 158.1415 as amended by SB 150 and should not be included in curriculum or instruction:

- o 5.1.6. Describe basic male and female reproductive body parts and their functions as well as the physical, social and emotional changes that occur during puberty.
- o KDE will begin standards review for Health and Physical Education, but until revised standards are approved and effective in law, the grade 5 health standard above should be omitted from local curriculum and instruction.

2. Any child, regardless of grade level, enrolled in the district does not receive any instruction or presentation that has a goal or purpose of students studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation; (law is explicit - No GOAL or PURPOSE of studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or gender orientation)

Hey!

I hope you are getting to kick off summer this Memorial Day Weekend! Danielle had some questions about To Kill A Mockingbird content in relation to Senate Bill 150. She mentioned that you may have some questions too, Eli. Here is the verbiage from the bill:

2. Any child, regardless of grade level, enrolled in the district does not receive any instruction or presentation that has a goal or purpose of students studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation; (law is explicit - No GOAL or PURPOSE of studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or gender orientation)
and

A policy to notify a parent in advance and obtain the parent's written consent before the parent's child in grade six (6) or above receives any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases authorized in this section.

Any course, curriculum, or program offered by a public school on the subject of human sexuality provided by school personnel or by third parties authorized by the school shall:

- (a) Provide an alternative course, curriculum, or program without any penalty to the student's grade or standing for students whose parents have not provided written consent as required in subsection (1)(e) of this section;
- (b) Be subject to an inspection by parents of participating students that allows parents to review the following materials: 1. Curriculum; 2. Instructional materials; 3. Lesson plans; 4. Assessments or tests; 5. Surveys or questionnaires; 6. Assignments; and 7. Instructional activities;
- (c) Be developmentally appropriate; and
- (d) Be limited to a curriculum that has been subject to the reasonable review and response by stakeholders in conformity with this subsection and KRS 9 160.345(2).

"A public school offering any course, curriculum, or program on human sexuality shall provide written notification to the parents of a student at least two (2) weeks prior to the student's planned participation in the course, curriculum or program." - This is from KDE guidance

You can see that it involves "teaching or presenting a program on" human sexuality. So, the book isn't teaching about human sexuality, so it's fine. Please send me any specific questions you may have, as we will be meeting with Stephen Dexter next week. We were supposed to meet this week, but he had to reschedule. I'll also send information out to the entire English Department soon too. Again, if you have specific questions please let me know.

Best, Stephanie

After the meeting, I was under the impression that because rape is a theme in the book that can't be ignored, that there would be quite a bit of curriculum related to the discussion of that, and that would fall under human sexuality.

I assume it's not the intent of the law, but from the wording, it seems like it would require parent permission.

Since it's not "instruction in human sexuality", it should be fine. I'm also including Steve and Mark, so they can give input. I will make sure some of these questions are cleared up with Dexter as well. Here is the wording regarding human sexuality that requires parent permission : receives any instruction through curriculum or programs on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases

The part of the law that was more explicit was:
No GOAL or PURPOSE of studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or gender orientation

Also, here is the KDE summary if it will help clarify for now...We will have better clarification by Wednesday afternoon after the Dexter meeting.

All of these are fine, Eli!

I asked Stephen about some of these specifically. Also, memoirs and biographies are really kinda separate, because their goal is to tell about a person's life or historical account.

Let me know if you have any others questions and I can have Steve Karsner take them to Dexter when they meet again.

Have a great weekend!
Stephanie

AWESOME!! Think we should just list the texts on our syllabus that they sign as a precaution?

You could!

I don't think you have to because none of them are explicitly teaching human sexuality or have the purpose of studying gender identity. The law only speaks to those two things, so I think you're good! If you want to for peace of mind, I don't think it'll hurt.

Have fun on your trips! Europe, right? JEALOUS!!!

Good Afternoon,

After meeting with Stephen Dexter this morning, I have responded to all the questions and summarized his responses. If you think I've missed something, Steve, chime in.

Senate Bill 150 Guidance via Board Attorney
SB 150 Questions & Clarifications

At this point, here are the steps to follow for "due diligence" and to comply with the law:

1. Pull any items that are in opposition to SB 150 or SB 5 based on the guidance from our board attorney.
2. After you pull them, "mark or track as weeded" in Destiny for your records and ours.
3. If you have questions, reach out to us or your Principal.
4. We have a reconsideration policy in the board policy manual. If a parent feels like there is an issue with an item, they can complete the form and submit it to the Principal for review.

I know this will be tedious, and I suggest prioritizing this work first, before completing your inventory in Destiny for your extended days.

As always, let me know if you have questions.

Happy Wednesday!
Stephanie

Stephanie,

I really appreciate you clarifying these things for us. This bill has caused me more stress this week than anything else in my professional career. Thanks for your work on this and helping us understand the law and what we are to do a bit better.

No problem!

I've just taken everything to our board attorney, as I didn't write the law, and wasn't even sure how much or little it would apply to libraries until a principal got questions from parents and a site based member. When dealing with laws and policies, we (our district) always looks to him for guidance. KSBA might have further guidance I. July too.

Just don't stress and do the best you can. As long as you do your due diligence it'll be fine.

Thanks and have a great weekend!
Stephanie
